

INTRODUCTION:

BRIAN FIELKOW

[Last name pronounced PHIL-koh]

Brian Fielkow is CEO of Houston-based Jetco Delivery. Since purchasing the company in 2006, Brian has grown it nearly 10-fold. Last year, Brian sold Jetco to Montreal-based The GTI Group. Brian serves as GTI's Executive Vice President. He largely attributes Jetco's growth to the focus he and his team put on building the company's safety culture.

Brian has learned that safety is at the cornerstone of an excellent operation. Safety is not just about rules and regulations – it's about behavior.

Safety is an investment, not a cost. It starts with accountability, employee empowerment, people and process.

Brian is the author of two books, including Leading People Safely: How to Win on the Business Battlefield. For his work in the field of applied safety, Brian received the National Safety Council's Distinguished Service to Safety award. This is this highest award that NSC bestows upon individuals.

Welcome Brian Fielkow.
